Fort Hood WIC Clinic Relocation

Temple, Texas – The Bell County Public Health District Women, Infants and Children (WIC) Program will re-open their Fort Hood clinic at the new location on base on August 28, 2018.

Bell County Public Health District WIC Program has been temporarily serving their Fort Hood clients from their downtown Killeen clinic location the last year while their new location was being renovated. The Fort Hood clinic was previously located on post at Building 289, Battalion Avenue and was temporarily moved to 111 Santa Fe Plaza in downtown Killeen in July 2017. The Fort Hood WIC clinic has been sharing space with the Killeen WIC clinic until construction was complete on its new location at the old Darnall hospital. The new location address will be Building 36000 Darnall Loop on Fort Hood military post.

The new Fort Hood WIC clinic location is in the old Darnall Hospital and is on the second floor located with Army Community Service (ACS). “Staff are excited about the new location”, says Nikki Morrow, WIC Program Director. The clinic is a much better space than their previous location with more room to serve clients. WIC will also be co-located with several other programs for military families. “WIC refers clients to many of these programs and they refer to us. It will be nice to work side by side to help serve those who serve our country” says Morrow. WIC parents can still expect to receive the same great services and options at the new location.
